ISSUE 28 MANAGE YOUR CAREER

Reminder

New Leaf Resumes changed its primary email address some time ago. Please amend your contact list by replacing the old stephaniec@newleafresumes with the new newleafresumes@gmail.com.

The gmail account never drops emails, has user friendly features and is ultra-reliable. Thank you for that!

***Please note that the old email (stephaniec) is no longer available to me. Up until about a week ago I had been able to access it, but no more!

This Month's Issue

aims to connect you with my favourite thinkers and writers whose blogs I enjoy. Inspirational from a personal and career perspective, I hope you also find joy in these writers' words.

As Always

I welcome questions, shared observations and opinions, and your suggestions for future newsletter topics. New Leaf Resumes is here to enhance your career management strategies.

Call me toll free at 855-550-5627, or email at newleafresumes@gmail.com.

I'd love to hear from you!

It's All About Joy!

In this month's issue I thought I would share with you some of my favourite bloggers -- folks whose words I read on a regular basis, or ones that I have just discovered. They fit in three categories: staying positive, finding inspiration, and learning about career strategies.

Daily Dose of Vitamin K

Kelvin Ringold sends out daily doses of happiness, positivity, encouragement and support. I read each one, faithfully, and he regularly makes me smile, laugh, feel great about myself and life in general. Here's what arrived in today's mail:

"Consider this... I'm looking for opportunities to CHEER for you!

Give me some help and share your news
Perhaps I'll even be your muse
For sure you've things of which you're proud
That you would like to shout out LOUD

Per chance to grab a little 'note'
From caring colleagues -- let them dote
O'er your success -- it's very dear
To those of us who hold you near

I tell you true, this is no sin
I *love* it ... when my friends WIN!

Got news to share? Hit reply and let me know about it, so I can cheer for you and maybe have other subscribers cheer. Let me work your success into a "Daily Dose of Positive" and maybe into an inspiration for someone else. Let your success inspire another.

Share a WINNING Wednesday !!"

Well, of course I sent in My Career Story (available for your reading on the Home Page of my website, as the file that clicks-through from my name); who knows, he may use it! For more information about Kelvin's awesome service, go to www.vitaminkdaily.com.

Ordinary Courage

I learned of Brene Brown listening to a CBC radio show one Sunday afternoon (a favourite Sunday activity, especially in the winter). Her insight into perfectionism and shame, and how courage plays into ordinary folks' lives, was inspirational! And her website's design is absolutely beautiful and stirs a joyful response. Stunningly humble, authentic, wholesome -- you have to visit! Go to <http://www.ordinarycourage.com/my-blog/2011/5/3/to-live-a-creative-life.html> .

Martin Yates

Now, I knew of Martin Yates as my career management library houses at least one of his books. He is the author of the "Knock 'em Dead" series of career management books.

But last week I was astonished (just about stopped breathing for a minute there!) to receive an email from Martin. He contacted me to share that he feels that we are like-minded career practitioners, and that he wondered if I would consider reading his newest book, Secrets and Strategies for Success in an Uncertain World, and writing a review. Would I!?!? Absolutely. The book should be delivered any day now. Visit Martin's blog at www.knockemdead.com. I particularly enjoyed his April 28th blog, Put Joy in Your Life Every Day.

I also read www.asktheheadhunter.com, and www.positivityblog.com. Let me know if any of these prove inspirational and joyful to you as well.

Thank you to so many of you for your ongoing support of New Leaf Resumes's services. I am ever so grateful for your referrals and repeat business. It continues to be my pleasure to serve your career-related writing and coaching needs.

Indeed, it is my joy to assist! All the best to all my readers - Stephanie
